

Law prescribes that I have a fiduciary responsibility to any client of mine, for ALL prospective insurance needs. It's enough just to place the initial insurance order, then to be banned from future follow up calls after the initial 18 months is certainly un-fair at best, and puts us subject to legal liability for failure to advise, provide, or solicit other coverage, this is just wrong.

Give us immunity, or allow us to contact our existing customers!